

NEWS LETTER

LSMIF - JANUARY 2024

ISSUE 1 | 23/01/2024

CURRENT NEWS

BONDS

Companies Rush to Bond Market in Record $150bn Debt Splurge

- US corporate bond markets are "on fire," with a record $150bn of debt sold this month. Investment-grade companies are seizing the opportunity to lock in lower yields amid a favourable market. Be sure to explore this trend and its potential impact on investment strategies.

ABRDN

Abrdn to Cut Hundreds of Jobs as Part of £150mn Restructuring Plan

- UK asset manager Abrdn is set to make significant job cuts as part of a cost-cutting initiative. Learn about the restructuring plan and its potential implications for the industry and our investments.

ETF WAR

Bitcoin ETF Fee War Spreads to Europe

- Invesco and WisdomTree have cut fees by over 60% on European-listed bitcoin products following the approval of spot bitcoin ETFs in the US. Dive into the details of this fee war and its implications for cryptocurrency investors.

AUTHOR - JOE KEHOE

STUDENT TESTIMONIAL:

"Throughout my current progression of Trainee Analyst, my experience with LSMIF has been very valuable. I have been exposed to many financial and business concepts that revolve heavily around the present markets. Since I have joined LSMIF, I have discovered strengths I did not know I had before. This motivates me to develop these skills further in order to exceed and take on more critical opportunities."

UPCOMING DATES

January 31st, 12:00pm-2:00pm: Presentation Prep (MANDATORY)

Get ready for our upcoming presentations! All sectors are required to participate.

February 7th, 12:30pm-5:00pm: Harvard Conference Room DCB

Details: Any stock on any exchange for a 10-minute stock pitch, judged by senior management.

February 14th, 12:00pm-2:00pm: Reflection Presentation & ERR Evaluation

Share your experiences and insights in this reflective session, followed by an evaluation of Equity Research Reports (ERR).

February 28th-29th: York Conference (Stock Competition)

Help us in the stock competition at the York Conference and showcase your investment skills.